DIRECTIONS

ROAD

The A38 is a main dual carriageway road by-passing Plymouth and connecting to the M5 at Exeter. The junction with the A386 is a major fly-over interchange with clear signposting to Tavistock and also to Derriford Hospital. Follow Tavistock signs north on the A386 - also dual carriageway.

After one mile you will approach the first roundabout with clear signs to turn right for the Hospital. Tamar Science Park is also signposted at this point.

Turn right towards the Hospital and proceed beyond the Hospital for 200 metres.

The Science Park is clearly visible on your right.

On entering the park, take the first left. Our offices are in the building (with the sail) on the left.

PARKING

Take another left before our office building and visitor parking spaces are on your left.

RAIL

Plymouth railway station is situated in the city centre. Taxis are readily available. To drive from the station follow Tavistock and Hospital signs.

AIR

The airport is situated half a mile from Tamar Science Park and is shown on the map.
